Members support historic preservation through the stewardship of magnificent architectural and cultural legacies, as well as by making history and culture core aspects of the guest experience.
TESTIMONY	"If a hotel was not built recently, then consumers will categorize the hotel as either historic or old. Obviously, it is better to be historic...Academic research conducted across several different industries suggests that brand heritage supports premium pricing. ... historic hotels can achieve a significant advantage in ADR and REVPAR versus contemporary hotels ... The key variable seems to be the degree to which the older hotel emphasizes and celebrates its history." - Bradford Hudson, Ph.D., Marketing Professor, Boston College, Excerpts from his keynote address to owners, general managers, and other senior leadership attending the 2018 Historic Hotels Annual Conference
